Re-enrolling in the same course

If a student is a returning student to MyMathLab or MyStatLab for a second course with the SAME book, these are the steps for registering in a subsequent course.

2. Make sure you are using the log in and password from your previous course with that book.

3. Click enroll in Another Course
4. Enter your instructors course id

Once you click continue, you will be enrolled in the new course.

If you are having problems with this, it is likely that you are not using the correct username and password from the previous semester. Please request that the system emails you your log in credentials and try again.
